

It would appear wise in cases where a sale is dependent on getting a restriction removed, that the landowner should, if possible, get the matter "clinched " by a contract—a conditional contract—conditioned that the vendor will get the restriction removed.